Excerpt: . then her wrinkled hand found sudden occupation -with her Schilizzi, she said to Grenville, as they turned indoors together, is going on much the same. I have not yet seen him. I refrained from doing so till my niece was out of the way. I give you fair warning that in another hour I may be infectious; and so if you are wise you will avoid me as a dangerous character. My dear Princess, said Grenville, I am not going to leave Lichtenbourg till you and all belonging to you are completely free from your anxieties. I only wish I could help you more than I can. CHAPTER XXXI. Certainly at that moment he was incapable of doing anything. He had had no sleep, except in unrefreshing snatches, since he left the Pasha s castle; and now that the chief object of his exertions was secured, physical weariness, long held at bay, asserted its rights at last, and he slept soundly till the evening. His first care on waking was to ascertain where the Princess would dine, in order that he might keep her company, and not seem to desert her. He was told that she would dine in her sitting-room, where he was at liberty to dine also, and she would be glad of his company, though she advised him not to give it her. They met. The Princess retained her spirits wonderfully. She said that the invalid had every comfort possible,...
